RICHARD L. ...
CLERK OF DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA
SAN JOSE

CALIFORNIA NORTHERN DISTRICT (San Jose)

Larry D. Padilla,) Plaintiff,) Vs.)
M.S. Evans, (Warden),) Defendant.)

Case No. 5:06-CV-01725-JFMOTION TO REINSTATE CAUSE*(Docket No. 94)

Plaintiff, Larry D. Padilla, requests the Reinstatement of all claims
"Dismissed" without prejudice.

Plaintiff requests all dates after January 26th, 2005 be reinstated by this Court.

Upon the dismissal of said dates plaintiff filed a Inmate/Parolee Appeal Form (CDC-602) dated December 6th, 2007, this CDC-602 states all dates that were denied by Judge Martin J. Jenkins. (see Exh. "A")

In Dole V. Chandler, (C.A. 7 (Ill.) 2006) plaintiff argues that he has exhausted his administrative remedies, plaintiff argues that under Strong V. David, 297 F.3d 646, 650 (7th Cir. 2002), he cannot be expected to do more than the state's regulations required of him. Prison officials may not take unfair advantage of the exhaustion requirement, however, and a remedy becomes "unavailable" if prison employees do not respond to a properly filed grievance or otherwise use affirmative misconduct to prevent a prisoner from exhausting. Lewis V. Washington, 300 F.3d 829, 833 (7th Cir. 2002); Dale V. Lappin, 376 F.3d 652, 656 (7th Cir. 2004).

Plaintiffs Appeal Form dated December 6th, 2007 was than screened out by an (Inmate/Parolee Appeal Screening Form CDCR-695).

1 Plaintiff, than filed a Petition for Writ of Administrative Writ of Mandate, 2 in Nichols V. Logan, 355 F.Supp. 2d 1155, (S.D.Cal. 2004) the court held that so 3 long as the plaintiff's grievance "present[s] the relevant factual circumstance 4 giving rise to a potential claim" and is "otherwise sufficient to put the prison 5 on notice of the potential claim", the basic purposes of the exhaustion requirement 6 are fulfilled. Irvin, 161 F.Supp. 2d at 1134-35.

7 Plaintiffs Writ of Administrative Writ of Mandate pending in Monterey County 8 Courthouse Case No. M-88537 is to have M.S.Evans, Warden et al. to answer plaintiff 9 Inmate / Parolee Appeal Form CDC-602.

10 Plaintiff can quote hundreds of cases of exhaustion requirements and the 11 defendant(s) would quote Woodford v. Ngo that over ride all of these, so my 12 question for the Court is when does the exhaustion requirement end? and is this 13 Court going to allow M.S. Evans, Warden, et al. to continue to violate plaintiffs 14 constitutional rights, even though plaintiff is a prisoner.

15 Plaintiff prays this court to grant this motion in the interest of justice.

16 Respectfully Submitted,

Case No. M88537

PETITION FOR WRIT OF ADMINISTRATIVE WRIT OF MANDATE

Petitioner, Larry D. Padilla, moves this court for an order to the, California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitations (CDCR), to perform it's duty by responding to petitioners Administrative Inmate/Parolee Appeals Form CDC-602 pursuant to the California Code of Regulations Title 15 §3084.1. Right to Appeal (a)(d).

In the instant case, the Appeals Coordinator violates the Title 15 rule §3084.1. Right to Appeal by using an Inmate/Parolee Appeal Screening Form (CDCR-695 stating "Padilla - inmates have 15 days from each event to appeal".

STATEMENT OF FACTS

(1) On Dec. 6th, 2007, petitioner filed a CDC-602 Inmate/Parolee Appeals Form on violations of the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments for the denial of a basic human need of "Outside Exercise". (see exh."A")

(2) On December 14th, 2007 petitioner received his CDC-602 back stating that petitioners "Time Constraints Not Met" with a yellow stick'em paper, meaning is unknown. (see exh."A")

(3) Petitioner sent along with petitioners CDC-602 an order from the court (Northern District of California) Case No. C-06-1725 MJJ (PR) that it was

1 GRANTING defendants' motion to dismiss in part. (see exh."A")

2 (4) In the motion attached to the CDC-602, pg.13 lines 1-2 which state "All 3 such claims are DISMISSED without prejudice to refileing after all administrative 4 remedies have been exhausted". (see exh."A")

5 (5) Out of:

BLACK'S LAW DICTIONARY:

6 without prejudice, adv. Without loss 7 of any right; in a way that does not 8 harm or cancel the legal rights or privileges of a party <dismissed without perjudice>.

9 As stated in 1-5 petitioner has done what the court requested in the 10 Northern District, I have refiled to exhaust the administrative remedies that 11 pertain to the Civil case now pending before the Northern District Court in San 12 Francisco California.

13 POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

14 The U.S.C.A. 14th Amendment of the Constitution "Due Process Clause", and 15 the California Code of Regulations Title 15 §3084.1. Right to Appeal.; Where a 16 prisoner established a constant pattern to process his/her administrative appeal 17 in a timely manner, a court ordered prison officials to adhere to the appeal time 18 lines set forth in the regulations. (see Craig V. Cambra, (Del Norte S.Ct.) Nos.
19 HCPBOO-5150 and HCPBOO-5151, Writ of Habeas Corpus filed, Feb.27th,2002; Title 15 20 California Code of Regulations §3084.6; In re:Woodham, (2002) 95 Cal.App. 4th [115 21 Cal.Rptr. 2d 431]. ("Unacceptable") delay in answering appeals violate the due 22 process.

23 One court has opined that if the CDCR's response to an administrative appeal 24 is unreasonably delayed, the appropriate procedure is for the prisoner to file a 25 "Petition for Writ of Mandate" to force the California Department of Rehabilitat-26 ions to perform it's duty by, completing the administrative review. Wright V.
27 California, (2004) 122 Cal.App. 4th 659 [19 Raptr. 3d 92].

28 Petitioner has followed the proper procedure as to filing the CDC-602, with

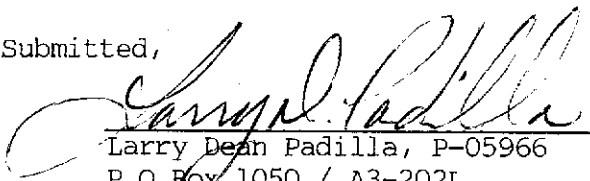

1 the motion from the court there is no reason for Salinas Valley State Prisons 2 administration to screen out the CDC-602.

3 Petitioner prays the court to grant this petition and/or order Salinas 4 Valley State Prison Administration to put in writing that I have exhausted the 5 administrative remedies available so that I may present these issues to the 6 Northern District of California in regards to my Civil Complaint filed with that 7 court.

8 I Larry D. Padilla, declare under the penalty of perjury that the foregoing 9 is true and correct to the best of my knowledge.

10 Respectfully Submitted,

To: E. Medina CC-II, Appeals Coordinator

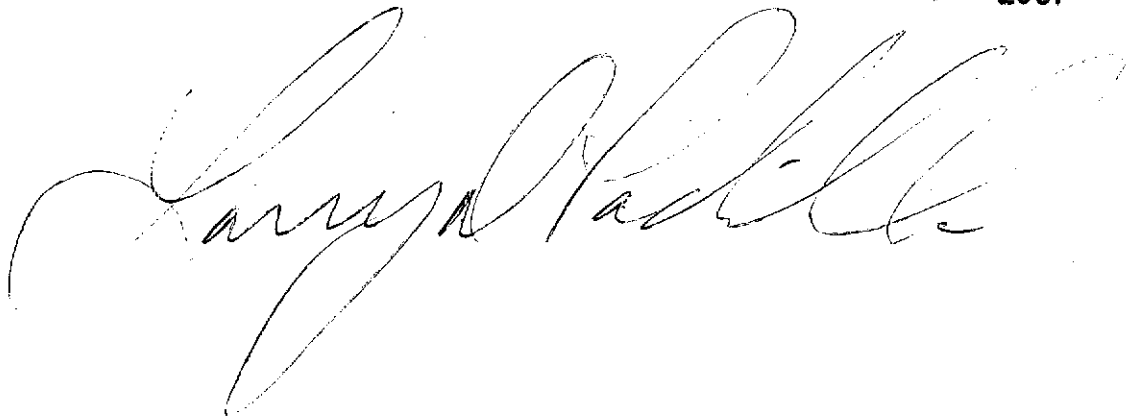

Dec. 6th, 2007

I spoke to you on Dec. 5th, about a CDC-602 that I have to file per the courts.

I submit this CDC-602 on the requested action of the court to exhaust the administrative remedies, doing so without prejudice from the court.

I'am attaching the order from the court which I must abide by... Please return the court papers attached to this CDC-602 as it pertains to my case that is pending with the court.

A. Describe Problem I'am filing this 602 on M.S.Evans (Warden) and D.M.Mantel (Captain) of Salinas Valley State Prison for the denial of "Outside Exercise". Per the court, to exhaust these administrative remedies I must file this 602 on the violations that this prison and its staff has caused me under the Eighth and Fourteenth Amends. Cruel and unusual punishment & Equal Protection Clause of the U.S. Constitution. Since being in this prison I have been denied outside exercise for frivolous excuses, and repeated deliberate practices of lock-downs by the above in question. The following dates are those that I have kept a record of from January 1, 2005 to the date of this filing and the dates are as specified herein:

If you need more space, attach one additional sheet.

(SEE ATTACHED Pg.1)

3. Action Requested: I request that these lock-downs be stopped, and that I be compensated for the days that I was lock-down for unjust reasons by the heads of this institution.

(Docket Nos. 74, 76, 78, 82, 88, 89, 90)

Plaintiff, an inmate at Salinas Valley State Prison ("SVSP"), filed this pro se civil rights complaint pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983. After reviewing the complaint, the Court found that it stated a cognizable Eighth Amendment claim for the deprivation of outdoor exercise. In the same order, the Court directed defendant, the warden of SVSP, to file a dispositive motion or notice that he is of the opinion that such a motion is not warranted in this case. Plaintiff was granted leave to file an amended complaint, in which he raises an additional claim for the violation of the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment and includes an additional defendant, the Captain of Facility A at SVSP.¹

Defendants filed a motion to dismiss the amended complaint pursuant to Rule 12(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure on the grounds that plaintiff failed to exhaust administrative remedies. Plaintiff has filed an opposition to defendants' motion ¹The amended complaint supercedes the original complaint.

94 pk

1 to dismiss. In addition to the motion to dismiss, the Court addresses plaintiff's motions to 2 compel discovery and add two exhibits.

3 BACKGROUND

4 Plaintiff alleges that defendants denied him sufficient outdoor exercise between 5 January 1, 2005, and January 25, 2007, in violation of the Eighth Amendment. (First 6 Amended Complaint ("FAC"), p. 5.) Plaintiff further alleges that during this time period 7 he was denied equal access to religious services, recreational activities, education classes, 8 and therapy programs in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment. (Id. at 7.) Plaintiff 9 contends this allegedly discriminatory treatment was due to his status as a special needs 10 inmate. (Id.)

11 DISCUSSION

12 A. Motion To Dismiss For Failure To Exhaust

13 1. Standard of Review

14 Nonexhaustion under 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a) is an affirmative defense; defendants 15 have the burden of raising and proving the absence of exhaustion. Wyatt v. Terhune, 315 16 F.3d 1108, 1119 (9th Cir.), cert. denied, 540 U.S. 810 (2003). A nonexhaustion claim 17 should be raised in an unenumerated Rule 12(b) motion rather than in a motion for 18 summary judgment. Id. In deciding a motion to dismiss for failure to exhaust nonjudicial 19 remedies, the court may look beyond the pleadings and decide disputed issues of fact. Id.
20 at 1119-20.² If the court concludes that the prisoner has not exhausted nonjudicial 21 remedies, the proper remedy is dismissal without prejudice. Id. at 1120.

22 2. Analysis

23 The Prison Litigation Reform Act ("PLRA") of 1995 amended 42 U.S.C. § 1997e 24 to provide that "[n]o action shall be brought with respect to prison conditions under [42 25 U.S.C. § 1983], or any other Federal law, by a prisoner confined in any jail, prison, or 26

27 ²If the court looks beyond the pleadings in deciding an unenumerated motion to 28 dismiss for failure to exhaust -- a procedure closely analogous to summary judgment -- the court must give the prisoner fair notice of his opportunity to develop a record. Wyatt, 315 F.3d at 1120 n.14. Plaintiff was given such notice in the May 31, 2006 order in this matter.

1 other correctional facility until such administrative remedies as are available are 2 exhausted." 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a). Exhaustion is mandatory and not left to the discretion 3 of the district court. Woodford v. Ngo, 126 S. Ct. 2378, 2382 (2006) (citing Booth v.
4 Churner, 532 U.S. 731, 739 (2001)). Exhaustion is a prerequisite to all prisoner lawsuits 5 concerning prison life, whether such actions involve general conditions or particular 6 episodes, whether they allege excessive force or some other wrong, and even if they seek 7 relief not available in grievance proceedings, such as money damages. Porter v. Nussle, 8 122 S. Ct. 983, 988, 992 (2002). Additionally, an action must be dismissed unless the 9 prisoner exhausted his available administrative remedies before he or she filed suit, even if 10 the prisoner fully exhausts while the suit is pending. McKinney v. Carey, 311 F.3d 1198, 11 1199 (9th Cir. 2002).

12 The proper treatment of a mixed complaint, one with both exhausted and 13 nonexhausted claims, will depend on the relatedness of the claims contained within. Lira 14 v. Herrera, 427 F.3d 1164, 1175 (9th Cir. 2005). When a prisoner has filed a mixed 15 complaint and wishes to proceed with only the exhausted claims, the district court should 16 simply dismiss the nonexhausted claims when the nonexhausted claims are not intertwined 17 with the properly exhausted claims. Id. On the other hand, when a plaintiff's mixed 18 complaint includes exhausted and nonexhausted claims that are closely related and 19 difficult to untangle, dismissal of the defective complaint with leave to amend to allege 20 only fully exhausted claims is the proper approach. Id. at 1176.

21 The State of California provides its prisoners and parolees the right to appeal 22 administratively "any departmental decision, action, condition or policy perceived by those 23 individuals as adversely affecting their welfare." Cal. Code Regs. tit. 15, § 3084.1(a). In 24 order to exhaust available administrative remedies within this system, a prisoner must 25 proceed through several levels of appeal: (1) informal review, (2) first formal written 26 appeal on a CDC 602 inmate appeal form, (3) second level appeal to the institution head or 27 designee, and (4) third level appeal to the Director of the California Department of 28 Corrections and Rehabilitation ("Director"). See Barry v Ratelle, 985 F. Supp 1235, 1237

1 (S.D. Cal. 1997) (citing Cal. Code Regs. tit. 15, § 3084.5). A final decision from the 2 Director's level of review satisfies the exhaustion requirement under § 1997e(a). See id. at 3 1237-38.

4 a. Plaintiff's Administrative Appeals

5 The parties agree and the record indicates that plaintiff exhausted his administrative 6 remedies in regards to inmate appeal number 05-00876. (FAC, p. 4; Mot. Dismiss, p. 7.)
7 On January 27, 2005, Plaintiff submitted appeal number 05-00876 for informal review, 8 contending that he received only nine hours and twenty-five minutes of exercise between 9 January 1, 2005 and January 26, 2005, in violation of the United States Constitution and 10 the California Code of Regulations, title 15, section 3343(h). (FAC, Exh. A.) The appeal 11 was denied at the informal level. (Id.) Plaintiff filed his first formal appeal, which was 12 denied. (Id.) Plaintiff's second level appeal was also denied. (Id.) Plaintiff's appeal for a 13 Director's level of review was denied on August 10, 2005. (Id.) The reviewing officer 14 explained that the institutional logs showed plaintiff received over forty hours of exercise 15 in January, that safety and security were the highest priorities at SVSP, and that exercise 16 time would be provided once SVSP was no longer on a modified program due to staff 17 shortages and security concerns. (Id.) The denial of plaintiff's appeal at the Director's 18 level of review exhausted his administrative remedies with regards to his claim that he was 19 denied adequate exercise in January of 2005.

20 The only other administratively exhausted inmate appeal plaintiff has filed 21 addressing the claim of insufficient exercise is appeal number 07-00832 and is contained 22 in plaintiff's motion to add exhibit C to his complaint. Plaintiff submitted this appeal for 23 informal review on January 16, 2007, contending that SVSP denied plaintiff adequate 24 exercise in January 2007 in violation of the Eighth Amendment. (Pl's Mot. Add Exh. C.)
25 The appeal was denied at the informal level. (Id.) Plaintiff's first and second level 26 appeals were also denied. (Id.) Plaintiff's appeal for Director's level of review, asserting 27 that the amount of exercise he received between January and April 2007 violated his 28 Eighth Amendment rights, was denied on July 13, 2007. (Id.) The reviewing officer

1 stated that SVSP was on a modified program due to anonymous information that prison
2 safety and security was in jeopardy, and that this was standard practice in the Department 3 of Corrections and Rehabilitation because institutional security is the top priority. (Id.)

4 Although the July 13, 2007 denial of plaintiff's appeal number 07-00832 at the 5 Director's level of review exhausted his administrative remedies, a claim must be 6 dismissed unless the prisoner exhausted his available administrative remedies before filing 7 suit, even if the prisoner fully exhausts while the suit is pending. McKinney, 311 F.3d at 8 1199. Plaintiff filed his complaint in this court on March 7, 2006. (Ct. Docket #1.) 9 Consequently, appeal number 07-00832 was not exhausted prior to plaintiff's filing suit.

10 In sum, the only appeal that plaintiff has timely exhausted alleging deprivation of 11 his Eighth Amendment rights is appeal number 05-00876, in which he contends that he 12 received insufficient exercise between January 1, 2005 and January 26, 2005.

13 b. Eighth Amendment Claims

14 Plaintiff's first amended complaint asserts that SVSP provided insufficient exercise 15 between January 1, 2005 and January 26, 2007.³ (FAC, p. 3.) However, as quoted above, 16 Plaintiff's sole exhausted appeal, number 05-00876, pertains only to the deprivation of 17 exercise between January 1, 2005, and January 26, 2005.⁴

18 In his opposition to defendants' motion to dismiss, plaintiff asserts that his first 19 amended complaint extended the time period in question because he is attempting to prove 20 "a continuing pattern of denial of outdoor exercise." (Pl's Opp., p. 2.) Plaintiff cites 21 Henry v. County of Shasta, 132 F.2d 512 (9th Cir. 1997) for the proposition that he may 22 use "post-event evidence" to demonstrate this policy or custom. (Id. at 2-4.) Henry,

23 24 ³The original complaint sought relief based on the alleged deprivation of exercise between January 1, 2005, and September 21, 2005.

25 ⁴Even if plaintiff's second appeal, number 07-00832, had been exhausted prior to 26 filing suit, that appeal only grieved insufficient exercise in 2007. Plaintiff has failed to 27 pursue any administrative grievances for the claimed loss of exercise between January 27, 28 2005, and December 31, 2006. By doing so, plaintiff has failed to place SVSP officials on notice of constitutional violations for that time period and has precluded potential internal corrective action or the filtering out of frivolous claims. See Porter v. Nussle, 534 U.S. 516, 525 (2002).

1 however, is inapposite because it does not address exhaustion issues nor does it fall under 2 the PLRA. The issue here is not whether plaintiff may use post-event evidence to 3 demonstrate a policy or custom, but rather whether he has exhausted the claimed 4 constitutional violations for the entire period of time he alleges they took place.
5 Accordingly, plaintiff's reliance on this case is misplaced.

6 Plaintiff also cites Gomez v. Winslow, 177 F.Supp.2d 977 (N.D. Cal. 2001), in 7 support of his assertion that SVSP officials were on notice of the alleged constitutional 8 violations throughout the 2005 to 2007 time period. (Pl's Opp., p. 4.) In Gomez, the 9 Court found the plaintiff's allegations that defendants failed to notify him that he testified 10 positive for Hepatitis C, begin treatment for several years, and provide him with adequate 11 medical information were "simply aspects of the inadequate medical treatment he notified 12 corrections officials about in his administrative appeals." 177 F.Supp.2d at 982. Here, in 13 contrast, plaintiff's claim that SVSP provided him with insufficient exercise from January 14 27, 2005 until January 25, 2007, was not simply an aspect of his initial grievance that he 15 was denied sufficient exercise in January 2005. During this two-year time period, as 16 indicated by the officers' responses to plaintiffs' administrative appeals, there could have 17 been many justifications for SVSP denying plaintiff exercise, such as different security 18 breaches or staff shortages leading to modified programs. As a result, prior to plaintiff's 19 filing the instant action, defendants were not on notice of the alleged constitutional 20 violations occurring after January 2005.

21 Section 1997e(a) requires that plaintiff present his claims to each level of 22 administrative review set forth above, before raising the claims in a § 1983 action in 23 federal court. Because plaintiff failed to exhaust, prior to the filing date, his administrative 24 remedies as to his Eighth Amendment claim of insufficient exercise after January 26, 25 2005, such claim is dismissed without prejudice. As his Eighth Amendment claim 26 regarding insufficient exercise between January 1, 2005, and January 26, 2005, was 27 properly exhausted, such claim is not dismissed.

28 c. Fourteenth Amendment Claims

1 Plaintiff claims that defendants have violated the Equal Protection Clause of the 2 Fourteenth Amendment by denying plaintiff "equal access to prison activities as those 3 enjoyed by inmates in the general prison populations . . . due to plaintiff's status as a 4 Sensitive Needs inmate" (FAC, p. 7.) Specifically, plaintiff alleges that he and other 5 sensitive needs inmates have been denied equal access to religious services, outdoor 6 exercise, recreational activities, educational classes, and therapy programs. (Id. at 7-9.)

7 Defendants assert that plaintiff has failed to file inmate appeals regarding a denial 8 of equal access to programs at SVSP due to his sensitive needs status. (Mot. Dismiss, p.
9 8.) Consequently, defendants argue that prison officials have been unable to address 10 plaintiff's grievances internally, and this claim should be dismissed for a failure to 11 exhaust. (Id. at 8-9.)

12 Plaintiff's sole timely exhausted grievance, inmate appeal number 05-00876, 13 addresses only the denial of sufficient exercise and does not mention religious services, 14 recreational activities, educational classes, nor therapy programs. (FAC, Exh. A.) Even 15 liberally construed, this inmate appeal does not have the same subject as plaintiff's equal 16 protection claim. Administrative remedies may not be exhausted where the grievance, 17 liberally construed, does not have the same subject and same request for relief. See 18 O'Guinn v. Lovelock Correctional Center, 502 F.3d 1056, 1062 (9th Cir. 2007). Thus, 19 plaintiff has only exhausted his claim regarding insufficient exercise and has not properly 20 exhausted his claims regarding religious services, recreational activities, educational 21 classes, and therapy programs.

22 While plaintiff asserted in appeal number 05-00876 that his Eighth Amendment 23 rights were violated by the denial of sufficient outdoor exercise, the appeal never explicitly 24 referenced the Fourteenth Amendment nor the Equal Protection Clause. (FAC, Exh. A.) 25 In his second level appeal, however, he did suggest that he was being denied equal access 26 to sufficient exercise. (Id. ("Enhanced out Patient program prisoners are allowed program 27 every day, Ad-Seg prisoners are allowed more program than this Sensitive Needs yard.") 28 (errors in source).) The issue is whether plaintiff has failed to exhaust his administrative

1 remedies as a result of not specifically articulating his Fourteenth Amendment legal claim, 2 despite articulating the facts underlying such a claim.

3 Compliance with prison grievance procedures is all that is required by the PLRA to 4 "properly exhaust." Jones v. Bock, 127 S. Ct. 910, 922-23 (2007). The level of detail 5 necessary in a grievance to comply with the grievance procedures will vary from system to 6 system and claim to claim, but it is the prison's requirements, and not the PLRA, that 7 define the boundaries of proper exhaustion. Id. at 923. For instance, in Jones, the 8 Supreme Court held that because the Michigan Department of Corrections' "procedures 9 made no mention of naming particular officials, the Sixth Circuit's rule imposing such a 10 prerequisite to proper exhaustion [was] unwarranted." Id.

11 The California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation ("CDCR") 12 Department Rules set forth the applicable grievance procedures. Cal. Code Regs. tit. 15, 13 art. 8. Nothing in these rules suggests that a grievance process is unexhausted because a 14 prisoner fails to identify a particular constitutional amendment or right. Id. Rather, the 15 rules simply state that an "inmate or parolee under the department's jurisdiction may 16 appeal any departmental decision, action, condition, or policy which they can demonstrate 17 as having an adverse effect upon their welfare." Cal. Code Regs. tit. 15, § 3084.1(a). If 18 the issue set forth in an appeal is unclear, the institution's appeals coordinator interviews 19 the appellant for further clarification. Id. at § 3084.3(a)-(b). An appeal may be rejected 20 for a variety of reasons, none of which indicates that failure to state a sufficient legal claim 21 merits rejection. Id. at § 3084.3(c). Furthermore, the prisoner appeal form only requires 22 that the appellant describe the problem and request action; there is no indication that a 23 prisoner must articulate a legal claim. (FAC, Exh. A.) Because the CDCR Department 24 Rules do not require the articulation of a specific constitutional provision, there is no such 25 prerequisite to proper exhaustion of CDCR administrative remedies. Consequently, appeal 26 number 05-00876 exhausted plaintiff's claims that the deprivation of outdoor exercise 27 between January 1, 2005, and January 26, 2005, violated his equal protection rights, 28 notwithstanding the fact that the appeal did not specifically reference the Equal Protection

1 Clause or the Fourteenth Amendment.

2 Accordingly, defendants' motion to dismiss plaintiff's equal protection claim is 3 denied with respect to plaintiff's properly exhausted allegations of insufficient exercise 4 between January 1, 2005, and January 26, 2005. Because, as discussed above, plaintiff 5 failed to exhaust claims regarding insufficient exercise following January 26, 2005, all 6 equal protection claims regarding lack of outdoor exercise from January 27, 2005 forward 7 are dismissed without prejudice. Finally, because plaintiff never properly exhausted 8 claims regarding religious services, recreational activities, education classes, and therapy 9 programs, all equal protection claims in reference to these alleged deprivations are 10 dismissed without prejudice.

11 B. Motion To Compel Discovery

12 1. Background

13 On March 15, 2007 plaintiff served defendants a second set of requests for 14 production of documents. (Pl.'s Mot. Compel Disc., Ex. A.) Plaintiff sought all SVSP 15 prisoner appeals addressing lockdowns between March 23, 2004 and May 15, 2007, and 16 all screened-out⁵ appeals regarding lockdowns of Facility A at SVSP. (Id.) Defendants 17 objected to these requests as unduly burdensome and overly broad, vague and ambiguous, 18 and irrelevant to any party's claim or defense (Id.) Further, defendants objected that 19 production would violate SVSP inmates' and staff members' constitutional right to 20 privacy. (Id.) Finally, defendants noted that they would be unable to produce screened-21 out appeals because, according to policy, the SVSP appeals office does not retain copies of 22 them; rather, the appeals are returned to the prisoner. (Id.)

23 On April 9, 2007, plaintiff sent a letter to defendants in an effort to meet and 24 confer. (Pl.'s Mot. Compel Disc., Exh. B.) Defendants sent a response letter again 25 expressing the same objections to the discovery request. (Pl.'s Mot. Compel Disc., Exh.

26
27 ⁵ Appeals coordinators at SVSP are required to screen inmate appeals for procedural 28 compliance with the California Code of Regulations. Cal. Code. Regs. tit. 15, § 3084.3(a).
A screened-out appeal is one that has been rejected for failure to comply with any of the various enumerated procedures. See id. at § 3084.3(c).

1 C.)

2 On June 29, 2007, plaintiff filed a motion to compel discovery, defendants filed an 3 opposition, and plaintiff filed a reply.

4 2. Standard Of Review

5 Parties may generally obtain discovery for any non-privileged matter "relevant to 6 the claim or defense of any party" Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b)(1). The scope of discovery 7 in federal courts is extremely broad, and a relevant matter is deemed to be "any matter that 8 bears on, or that reasonably could lead to other matters that could bear on, any issue that is 9 or may be in the case." Oppenheimer Fund, Inc. v. Sanders, 437 U.S. 340, 351 (1978).

10 Upon reasonable notice, a party may apply for an order compelling discovery 11 pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 37(a). Timeliness, good cause, utility, and 12 materiality are among the factors a court must consider when deciding a motion to compel.
13 Nat'l Union Fire Insur. Co. of Pittsburgh, PA v. Elec. Trust Inc., 2006 WL 1525809, *2 14 (N.D. Cal. June 1, 2006). A court may deny a motion to compel if it "would not aid in the 15 exploration of a material issue" or if it "would impose an undue burden on the responding 16 party or its benefits are outweighed by its burdens." Id. Additionally, "[f]ederal courts 17 ordinarily recognize a constitutionally-based right of privacy that can be raised in response 18 to discovery requests." Soto v. City of Concord, 162 F.R.D. 603, 616 (N.D. Cal. 1995). If 19 a party raises a privacy objection, the court must balance "the need for the information 20 sought against the privacy right asserted." Id.

21 3. Request For Prisoner Appeals

22 Plaintiff seeks "all administrative complaint(s) . . . filed by other prisoners at 23 Salinas Valley State Prison with respects [sic] to the lockdowns starting on [his] arrival on 24 March 23rd, 2004 to the present date 2007" (Pl.'s Mot. Compel Disc., Ex. A.) 25 Plaintiff requests these appeals so that he may demonstrate that others in SVSP share his 26 concerns about the lockdowns. (Pl.'s Mot. Compel Disc., Ex. A.) Defendants object that 27 this request is unduly burdensome, would not benefit plaintiff in exploration of a material 28 issue, and invades inmates' right to privacy. (Def.'s Opp. Mot. Compel, p. 3-5.)

1 First, defendants assert that plaintiff's request is unduly burdensome and does not 2 benefit plaintiff in exploration of a material issue. (Id. at 3.) Specifically, defendants 3 contend that SVSP currently houses 4,769 inmates, and many of these inmates file 4 between five and 130 appeals each year, leading to the SVSP Appeals Office processing 5 approximately 160 appeals each day. (Id. at 3.) While appeals are kept for five years in an 6 appeals file, defendants contend that the files are not maintained nor electronically 7 searchable. (Id. at 4.) Defendants assert that searching through these files in response to 8 plaintiff's discovery request would require innumerable hours and would strain CDCR's 9 limited resources. (Id. at 3-4.) Defendants also contend that plaintiff's request is broadly 10 worded such that he is requesting appeals irrelevant to either party's claims or defenses.
11 (Id. at 4.) SVSP may be placed on lockdown or a modified program for a variety of 12 reasons, some of which do not mandate prisoners being confined to their cells. (Id.) As a 13 result, defendants argue, plaintiff would have access to appeals unrelated to his claims.
14 (Id.)

15 Appeals filed by other prisoners at SVSP grieving lockdowns are not relevant to 16 plaintiff's Eighth Amendment claims. Whether or not other SVSP inmates were upset by 17 lockdowns or found their access to outdoor exercise to be insufficient has no bearing on 18 whether plaintiff's own Eighth Amendment rights were violated by a denial of sufficient 19 outdoor exercise. Further, while it is conceivable that these appeals would be relevant to 20 plaintiff's Fourteenth Amendment claims, for instance by demonstrating that only 21 sensitive needs inmates grieved insufficient exercise, the appeals would be duplicative of 22 existing or otherwise easily obtainable evidence. Lockdown orders and plaintiff's 23 affidavits could serve the same function of demonstrating that only specific segments of 24 the inmate population were put under lockdown or deprived of sufficient exercise.

25 To rule otherwise would be unduly burdensome for defendants. Even though 26 plaintiff's claims have been whittled down to a denial of sufficient exercise between 27 January 1, 2005, and January 26, 2005, such that plaintiff would only conceivably need 28 access to SVSP prisoner appeals regarding lockdowns for that period of time, defendants

1 would still need to sift through an inordinate number of appeals to fulfill plaintiff's 2 discovery request. Because the SVSP Appeals Office processes approximately 160 3 appeals every day, defendants would need to search through about 4,160 appeals to fulfill 4 plaintiff's request. SVSP is not to be rewarded for choosing a file maintenance system 5 that is difficult to search when prisoners file civil rights actions; however, the limited 6 benefit that these appeals may have for plaintiff's case is significantly outweighed by the 7 burden on defendant in producing the requested appeals.

8 3. Request For Screened-Out Appeals

9 Plaintiff next requests all screened-out prisoner appeals regarding lockdowns at 10 SVSP facility A. (Pl.'s Mot. Compel Disc., Ex. A.) Plaintiff requests these appeals so that 11 he may prove his civil rights claims and demonstrate that defendants "have committed 12 other civil rights violations . . . which serve the basis for punitive damages." (Pl.'s Mot.
13 Compel Disc., p. 10.) Defendants object that they do not possess the requested documents.
14 (Def.'s Opp. Mot. Compel, p. 5-6.)

15 Screened-out inmate appeals are returned to inmates with a form notifying the 16 inmate why the appeal was screened out. (Def.'s Opp. Mot. Compel, p. 5-6; Decl. Variz ¶ 17 4.) As a result, screened-out appeals are not in defendants' possession. (Id.) SVSP's 18 Inmate Appeals Automated Tracking System maintains a record of the screened-out appeal 19 with a description as to why the appeal was screened-out, but that is the only record of the 20 appeal that defendants have access to. (Id.)

21 Because defendants lack access to screened-out prisoner appeals, plaintiff's motion 22 to compel discovery of these documents is denied.

23 CONCLUSION

24 For the foregoing reasons, the Court orders as follows:

25 1. Defendants' motion to dismiss is GRANTED as to all claims arising after 26 January 26, 2005 for failure to exhaust administrative remedies. Defendants' motion to 27 dismiss is GRANTED as to all claims regarding the denial of equal access to religious 28 services, recreational activities, education classes, and therapy programs for failure to 1 exhaust administrative remedies. All such claims are DISMISSED without prejudice to 2 refiling after all administrative remedies have been exhausted. Defendants' motion to 3 dismiss is DENIED with respect to plaintiff's Eighth Amendment and Equal Protections 4 claims regarding the deprivation of outdoor exercise between January 1, 2005 and January 5 26, 2005.

6 2. No later than ninety (90) days from the date of this order, defendants shall 7 file a motion for summary judgment or a notice that they are of the opinion that this case 8 cannot be resolved by such motion. Any motion for summary judgment shall be 9 supported by adequate factual documentation and shall conform in all respects to Federal 10 Rule of Civil Procedure 56. Defendants are advised that summary judgment cannot 11 be granted, nor qualified immunity found, if material facts are in dispute. If any 12 defendant is of the opinion that this case cannot be resolved by summary judgment, 13 he shall so inform the Court prior to the date the summary judgment motion is 14 due.

15 3. Plaintiff's opposition to the dispositive motion shall be filed with the Court 16 and served on defendants no later than thirty (30) days from the date defendants' 17 motion is filed. The Ninth Circuit has held that the following notice should be given to 18 plaintiffs:

19 The defendants have made a motion for summary judgment by 20 which they seek to have your case dismissed. A motion for summary 21 judgment under Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure will, if 22 granted, end your case.

23 Rule 56 tells you what you must do in order to oppose a motion for 24 summary judgment. Generally, summary judgment must be granted when 25 there is no genuine issue of material fact--that is, if there is no real dispute 26 about any fact that would affect the result of your case, the party who 27 asked for summary judgment is entitled to judgment as a matter of law, 28 which will end your case. When a party you are suing makes a motion for summary judgment that is properly supported by declarations (or other sworn testimony), you cannot simply rely on what your complaint says.
Instead, you must set out specific facts in declarations, depositions, answers to interrogatories, or authenticated documents, as provided in Rule 56(e), that contradict the facts shown in the defendants' declarations and documents and show that there is a genuine issue of material fact for trial. If you do not submit your own evidence in opposition, summary judgment, if appropriate, may be entered against you. If summary judgment is granted in favor of defendants, your case will be dismissed

1 and there will be no trial.

2 See Rand v. Rowland, 154 F.3d 952, 963 (9th Cir. 1998) (en banc). Plaintiff is advised 3 to read Rule 56 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 4 477 U.S. 317 (1986) (holding party opposing summary judgment must come forward 5 with evidence showing triable issues of material fact on every essential element of his 6 claim). Plaintiff is cautioned that failure to file an opposition to defendants' motion for 7 summary judgment may be deemed to be a consent by plaintiff to the granting of the 8 motion, and granting of judgment against plaintiff without a trial. See Ghazali v.
9 Moran, 46 F.3d 52, 53-54 (9th Cir. 1995) (per curiam); Brydges v. Lewis, 18 F.3d 10 651, 653 (9th Cir. 1994).

11 5. Defendants shall file a reply brief no later than fifteen (15) days after 12 plaintiff's opposition is filed.

13 6. The motion shall be deemed submitted as of the date the reply brief is due.
14 No hearing will be held on the motion unless the Court so orders at a later date.

15 7. Plaintiff's motion to compel discovery is DENIED.

16 8. Plaintiff's motions to add exhibits B and C are GRANTED.

17 This order terminates docket numbers 74, 76, 78, 82, 88, 89, and 90.
